FAMILY FIGHT FOR CITY LOTS

Col. Parker Seeks To Deprive Former Daughter-in-Law Of Alleged Interest In Estate

CONCERNS C. PARKER HORSEMAN

An aged man of distinguished appearance is contending in the district court today against his grandchild and former daughter-in-law. The suit is that of Colonel Parker against Ella M. Parker and Jennie L. Parker, to quiet title to a dozen valuable lots in Oklahoma City, most of them in the Parker & Colcord addition, but back of it is a family history of interest. The property involved is worth between $50,000 and $100,000.

Colonel Parker alleges in his petition that Ella M. Parker, the divorced wife of his son, Clark Parker, and Jennie L. Parker, her daughter, who is a widow, are claiming an interest in a dozen valuable lots in this city, and asks that their claims be denied and that the title to the property be wholly vested in him. Clark Parker, a son of the plaintiff, died some time ago, but before his death his wife obtained a divorce in Ohio, where they had removed after leaving Oklahoma City. Clark Parker was well known here as the owner of a string of race horses.

Much of the evidence is in the form of depositions and two days have been occupied in reading them. Mrs. Ella M. Parker and her daughter are attending the trial and give close attention to the reading of the depositions. In her answer to the petition Mrs. Parker alleges that her husband was part owner of the lots and that when she was divorced from him in Ohio, where they were induced to go by his father, her attorneys represented to her that the question of all money would be settled later and that she would be given her share of her husband's property. After his death she claimed the part of the estate due her as a wife and the daughter is also claiming her share as an heir.

Colonel Parker is now a resident of Ohio, but in early days was well known in this city. His son was also widely known among horsemen. Much of the evidence taken in depositions has to do with the habits of Clark Parker and is given by those who were employed by him or associated with him.

According to the depositions, Colonel Parker bought a home for his son in Ohio and induced him to go there. The woman who was his wife at that time alleges that his habits became such that she was compelled to leave him and seek a divorce. She says she did not know at the time the divorce was granted that she was in any danger of losing her share in her husband's property.

Oil case docketed as exception to fee rule.

The supreme court today ordered the case of the Wolverine oil company against the state board of equalization and E. B. Howard, state auditor, protesting the payment of the gross production tax, to be docketed without the payment of any fee at this time. Ordinarily no case may be placed on the docket of the supreme court without the payment of a $40 filing fee.

In this case the state is one of the parties to the suit. Should the plaintiffs win it will not be incumbent upon them to pay the costs in the case. This feature of the case cannot be determined until the case is finally passed upon by the high court. The case was offered for filing on June 3, but the matter of paying the fee had not been decided upon until today.

Lack of jury need not mean a mistrial.

Where a case is tried to the court without a jury, a general finding in favor of one of the parties will be given the same weight as a verdict of a jury, and if there is evidence reasonably tending to support the same it will not be disturbed on appeal. This principle of law is upheld in a decision from Division No. 3, the opinion written by Commissioner Bleakmore and handed down by the supreme court today.

The case was that wherein E. R. Kolp and others secured a judgment against the J. B. Edgar Grain company in Oklahoma county district court and the latter appealed to the high court. The judgment of the lower court is affirmed.

Third closing recital at musical art institute.

The third closing recital of the pupils of the Musical Art Institute was given before an interested audience Monday evening, the program including voice, piano, and violin numbers. Those participating in the excellent program were Misses Helen White, Jennie Verba, Dorothy Mayhew, Blanche Schwarz, Evelyn Hagaman, Faye Owen, Frances Flanagan, Thyr Weaver, Mary Cooke, Helen Geier, and Mrs. Albert Lehr whose beautiful voice was heard in "With Verdure Clad" from "The Creation."

Claims he was author of arithmetic, and sues.

G. A. Tallent, school book man, is suing Lyons & Clineham in the district court today for breach of contract, alleging that he was employed by the publishing house to write a primary arithmetic, from which he was to receive a royalty. He also traveled as an agent for the house, he alleges, and was to receive $5,000 a year. The company alleges that he was to be paid $150 a month and that he was only a helper in the compilation of the arithmetic.

AMERICAN FASHIONS

Dainty Matinee for Warm Summer Days

When the relentless summer heat prescribes awnings, tea, and as few clothes as possible it is very pleasant to remain indoors throughout the long afternoon clad in a cool negligee, consisting of one's self with thoughts of little sandals and arctic explorations, and now, just before the hottest days come, is the time to make a few such garments to keep on hand when the others are being washed. They are chiffon crepes, china silks and crepe de chine make the daintiest of negligees, and because they have no dressing in them are really considerably cooler than the batiste and lawns and swisses.

A preference is shown the short matinee in summer, thus making a pretty petticoat an essential. The sketch depicts a splendid design for a matinee, well suited to the development of any of the above mentioned materials. It is simply fashioned, yet exceptionally dainty, and one that can be made at home with little difficulty.

LOW BID MAY NOT BE BEST

Capitol Estimates Are So Frightfully Involved That Awardal Is Days Off

CLEVELAND FIRM LOOKS LOWEST

It will be a week or ten days, possibly longer, before the capitol commission can announce the successful bidder for the construction of the capitol building. This much was known today when the commission, meeting this morning began to compute the figures contained in the different bids, including the many alternatives. It is possible that it will require more time than the number of the commission now think it will arrive at the final conclusion. The whole proposition is of so much importance that it is thought to consider it from every angle.

Upon the first computation made today, apparently there are two bidders only in the money. But none of the certified checks will be returned until it is ascertained that the individual bidder is wholly without the appropriation available.

The amount available now is something more than $1,200,000. The figures of the John Ellis & Sons of Cleveland, Ohio, as computed by the commission, show $1,170,000. This is based on Bedford stone with a small granite water line. The bid of the James Stewart company shows $1,167,000. These two could be counted as being within the money. But it is not determined yet whether stone or granite is to be used, and these figures would probably be changed materially if that is decided to be done.

The Pelligrone construction company of St. Louis, A. O. Campbell of Oklahoma City, Holmboe Construction company of Oklahoma City and the Manhattan Construction company of Muskegon, are a little higher than the two first mentioned. But there are other combinations in building material that might change the figures, all of them. Therefore it is difficult to tell anything for certain about at this time.

The members of the commission, with Governor Williams as ex-officio chairman, will meet during the morning hours every day until the bids are all analyzed and the final result is known. The John Ellis company, the one now with the lowest proposals, according to the combination as first worked out, are at present constructing capitol buildings, the former building the Missouri capitol and the latter the Utah capitol at Ogden.

Every item to the bids will be carefully gone over by the commission and every feature of the construction, material to be used, will be considered liberally. It is the belief of the commissioners that sufficient time should be taken now to get started right, and that in the making of the contract everything should be fully discussed and determined, for after the contract is once made, both sides are bound to abide by it.

Baseball was in mind at rotary club lunch.

Baseball slang was very much in evidence at the regular weekly meeting and luncheon of the Rotary club in the Lee-Huckins hotel today, when the challenge of the Ad club for the annual game was accepted. The contest will be played June 19.

A. J. McMahon acted as chairman of the meeting. Talks were made by Mayor Pete Duffy of El Reno and Mr. Gordon of the Exchange National Bank of Tulsa.

Official Reports

FRENCH

PARIS, June 8.—The French war office today gave out this statement: "In the sector north of Arras there were yesterday evening and last night some infantry engagements. On the eastern slopes of the Plateau of Lorette the enemy replied to an attack by us by three violent counterattacks. This activity did not result in any changes of position.

"Northeast of the sugar refinery of Souchez, we, yesterday, made further progress.

"At Neuville St. Vaast we gained possession as a result of very violent fighting of a further group of houses. In the region of the labyrinth a German counter attack has been repulsed.

"Southeast of Hebuterne the Germans yesterday endeavored to recapture the positions they had lost. Four different times they were driven back. We increased our gain to the northeast by taking possession of two lines of German trenches along a front stretching for 500 yards, or as far as the railway running between Hebuterne and Serré.

"We took a total of 150 prisoners, of whom 100 had not been wounded.

TURKISH

AMSTERDAM, June 8.—There has been received here from Constantinople a dispatch which transmits the following Turkish official report on the progress of the fighting in the Dardanelles.

"Our artillery has destroyed an enemy position at Burn where bombs were dropped. The neighboring trenches also were destroyed.

"Near Seddul Bahr the enemy, in a condition of exhaustion, has not shown any further activity since his latest unsuccessful attack.

"Our batteries on the Asiatic coast shelled the weary troops of the enemy in the neighborhood of Seddul Bahr yesterday. His artillery position and his ammunition transports also were shelled.

"Two enemy cruisers unsuccessfully shelled the village of Ajman, opposite the island of Mytilene. Subsequently the enemy sent a steamer filled with soldiers to this port and attempted to remove some boats at anchor there. Fire was opened on this steamer from the banks and the vessel ran ashore. Subsequently the cruisers retired."

ITALIAN

ROME, June 8.—A statement signed by General Cadorna, chief of the general staff, issued last night at general Italian headquarters says:

"Our advanced troops proceed methodically to take possession of the most important positions beyond the frontier all along the line, meeting with slight resistance. At the same time a closely contested artillery duel continues on the plateaus of Lavagnone and Edgaria.

"The same is the case all along the Isongo river from Caporetto to the sea where we are in close contact with the enemy. Strong advance formation protected by powerful artillery actually have reached this important line with the object of establishing themselves solidly at the most suitable passages and of installing there bridge heads commanding the banks, thereby ensuring safe crossings."

"Beyond the Caporetto mountains, along the heights and in the valleys our troops are continuing their heavy fighting of June 4-5 against the Austrian positions on the opposite slope. We have gained firm footholds on both banks of the river and are threatening Tolmino.

"Along the lower course of the Isongo, after spanning the river with military bridges under the eyes of the enemy, large detachments of our troops, preceded by a reconnoitering force of cavalry crossed to the eastern bank, where they now are fortifying themselves. By this maneuver we are assured along the Isongo front the same liberty of action as on our other

Police Station Visitor Divides Time Equally Between Practice of Law and Drinking. With Preference Plain

"Say, are you—hic—a lawyer?" asked a belligerent individual in the city bawling this morning as Jailer R. P. Witten passed through the corridor.

"Well," replied the truthful custodian, "I'm not practicing now. Are you one?" "I ain't practicing—hic—now, neither," was the maddish response. "I been a lawyer for—hic—twenty years, but I been drunk for—hic—ten years and I don't never practice—hic—when I'm drunk, but I ain't never too drunk to meet a—hic—old fren', you know."

FOOD FOR FIGURES AND FIGURES NAMED ON FOOD

The contract for feeding the municipal prisoners will probably be awarded at the next meeting of the board of commissioners. Four bids for the job of catering for the inmates of the hungry inmates of the city jail have been received, ranging from ten and a half to twelve and a half cents a meal.

The only requirement of the city in awarding the contract is that the prisoners must be served wholesome food, in sufficient quantities, well cooked.

War at a Glance

Four more vessels, three of them neutrals, have been sunk by German submarines in the waters near the British Isles. The neutral ships were all Norwegian and no loss of life on them is reported. In the case of the fourth vessel, the Belgian steamer Memphre, only six of the 23 persons on board were saved.

General Cadorna, Italian chief of staff, said in a report from the front last night that the Italians were making methodical progress all along the frontier, taking possession of important positions. Apparently the main invading force has not yet crossed the Isongo river along the line north of the Gulf of Trieste, but General Cadorna stated strong detachments had entrenched themselves on the further side, meeting little opposition.

Forces which crossed the river near Tolmino now menace that point, which is of great strategic importance.

Reports from Vienna say the Austrians have been successful in several minor engagements with the Italians. Although there has been sharp fighting at various points, the Austrians still are postponing their decisive battle which is expected soon.

Official advices from Petrograd give few definite statements concerning the situation in Galicia. It is admitted, however, that the Austro-German forces succeeded in crossing the Dniester river near Zonow, and apparently that Russians still are fall-ling back along most of this front. A German victory almost as striking as that in Galicia is said in Berlin to have won the Baltic provinces which were besieged several weeks ago by the Germans.

The Russian resistance seems to have broken down. A Petrograd dispatch, however, asserts the Russians were victorious in the most bitter battle of this campaign, fought for control of the Dniester river. It is said the fight was so fierce and deadly that the river was choked with dead.

Turkish accounts of the recent fighting on Gallipoli peninsula say that, contrary to British and French claims of success, the allies have met with a serious reverse in their campaign for Constantinople. In the fighting at Seddul Bahr according to these reports the British were put to rout and left the field covered with their dead. The present position of the British is described as dangerous. The principal point of interest on the western front now is Hebuterne, a French town 15 miles southwest of Arras where the French have instituted a new attack. The official statement from Paris today says four German counter attacks at this point, in an effort to capture lost ground, were defeated and that the French increased their gains to the extent of two lines of German trenches over a front of 400 yards.
